Our Facility

Our national campus in Boulder, Colorado, houses 6 mock courtrooms with digital recording and playback, wireless Internet access, and stunning views of the Rocky Mountains. These assets make the NITA Education Center at Boulder (NEC) a totally unique backdrop for our unmatched learning-by-doing teaching method. The NEC plays host to lawyers from around the world who come for a wide variety of basic, advanced, and specialty programs. The NEC is a short drive from Denver International Airport, and all the skiing, hiking, climbing, camping, fishing, and other recreational opportunities that make Colorado such a great destination.

This facility is dedicated to support advocacy skills training and designed to provide the best educational configuration. The NEC provides:

The NITA Education Center is located in scenic Boulder, Colorado. This self-contained teaching facility is close to multiple hotels, numerous restaurants and shops, a short drive to local ski resorts, golf, and a variety of other recreational activities.

The main meeting room features:

A wireless microphone system, including digital sound processor to minimize feedback; audio from computer, VCR, and DVD is sent through the processor to allow for individuals to talk over presentations.

Rack mounted VCR/DVD system for playback of VHS or DVD sources connects directly to the LCD projector and eight-speakersound system

2 ceiling mounted LCD projectors and screens

Secure Wireless Network
