Letter from the President

Anniversary: [an-uh-vur-suh-ree] the celebration or commemoration of such a date.

Forty years in any business or personal venture is quite an accomplishment, and 2011 saw NITA achieve that milestone with great success. Having been involved with this organization for most of those 40 years it gives me great pride to see how far it has come. In the early years NITA ran one skills program a year: The National Session, which I attended in 1975. In 2011 we ran 216 programs which provided training for over 4500 lawyers from private firms, public service organizations, government agencies and various other entities.

In that inaugural NITA program, public service attorneys trained side-by-side with attorneys from private practice. At many of our current programs that is still the case however we now also offer programs specific to audiences in the public service sector. Twenty-nine such public service and co-sponsored programs ran in 2011.

The calendar turned to the 1980s before NITA ran its first in-house program (now called Custom Program). Flip the calendar to 2011 and our faculty trained nearly 1700 attorneys in over 130 custom programs.

Prior to 1975 NITA had yet to release a publication or case file. Currently we now have 165 publications in circulation including 23 which were new or updated in 2011. The NITA Foundation, established in 2003, generated $158,574 in donations in 2011 which was used to award 93 scholarships to NITA programs.

That’s a lot of work in what is supposed to be a fun anniversary year so NITA did have some fun to celebrate the occasion. As a way to thank the NITA community for all they have contributed over forty years we held anniversary celebrations across the country, inviting all current and former NITA Trustees, faculty and participants to attend. The celebrations in Denver, New York City, San Francisco and Chicago each had a large group of NITA enthusiasts in attendance. Also drawing a star studded NITA crowd was the alumni reunion held during the 2011 National Session. Having the program back in Boulder, as it was 40 years ago, made it a fitting time to have a weekend long celebration including some of the longest standing and most prominent NITA teachers in the organization’s history.(see page 20)

It’s true that teaching the art of advocacy for 40 years is quite an accomplishment for NITA. Perhaps even more exciting is there is no slowing down in sight. The NITA community, led by the Board of Trustees, faculty and staff, remain hard at work to build on the momentum from our anniversary year and each historic year before it.

Thank you for all you have done for this outstanding and monumentally historic organization.

John T. Baker
Executive Director, NITA
Mission Statement

NITA’s team of practicing lawyers, professors and judges from around the nation dedicates its efforts to the training and development of skilled and ethical legal advocates to improve the adversarial justice system.

NITA’s mission is to:
• Promote justice through effective and ethical advocacy;
• Train and mentor lawyers to be competent and ethical advocates in pursuit of justice; and
• Develop and teach trial advocacy skills to support and promote the effective and fair administration of justice.

NITA Long-Range Goals and Objectives

• Enable and encourage lawyers to become effective, ethical and professional advocates.
• Create and promote the highest quality professional and ethical advocacy training and educational materials.
• Encourage, support and assist advocacy training for, and dedication to, public service.

About NITA

The National Institute for Trial Advocacy (NITA) is the nation’s leading provider of legal advocacy skills training. A 501(c)(3) not-for-profit organization based in Boulder, Colorado, NITA pioneered the legal skills learning-by-doing methodology forty years ago and has since remained the ultimate standard in professional development. While the legal profession has changed significantly during that time the method of learning employed by NITA and its illustrious faculty remains the most effective way for lawyers to advance their advocacy skills.

The History

Three professional organizations funded the creation of the National Institute for Trial Advocacy (NITA) in 1971: the Section of Judicial Administration of the ABA; the American College of Trial Lawyers; and the Association of Trial Lawyers of America. Originally named the National Trial Lawyers Institute in the 1971 articles of incorporation as a not-for-profit organization, the directors at the organizational meeting quickly settled on NITA as the name of the organization. The core of NITA programs was then, and still is today, learning-by-doing.

Learning-by-Doing

With an average student:faculty ratio of 4:1 to maximize individualized feedback, NITA programs deliver unparalleled professional development for every attorney in attendance. By observing the expert NITA faculty perform a skill then performing each skill multiple times, program participants are able to grasp that skill, retain it and determine how to best fit it into their unique style. Higher repetition equals higher (and quicker) retention and NITA programs are constantly looking at new ways to maximize the amount of performance time and faculty feedback in each program.
Public Programs

Forty years ago there was one NITA program: The National Session. Many things changed in 2011 but one remained the same. Just like in 1972 the National Session took place in Boulder at the University of Colorado, although in 2011 it was only two weeks, not four. In addition to the National Session, in 2011 NITA ran 15 other Trial Skills programs, 23 Deposition Skills programs, 12 “Specialty” programs including Advanced Trial Skills, Advocacy Teacher Training, Communication Skills and three Online Deposition Skills programs.

Public Service Programs & Directors

During the first National Session 40 years ago public service lawyers trained alongside private practice attorneys. In 2011 a number of public service attorneys continued to attend NITA public programs. What’s more is NITA is now able to offer specific programs for public service attorneys who have chosen to work in child advocacy, tribal law, death penalty defense, immigration, domestic violence or any other vital areas of public interest.

As a public service organization, NITA provides the same high-caliber training to attorneys working in areas of public service that we do for the nation’s largest firms. The same skills, taught with the same NITA method by the same NITA faculty. Many of these programs are offered at a substantial discount, others completely tuition free.

International Programs & Directors

Over the span of 40 years NITA’s reputation for excellence in advocacy training has spread throughout the world. The focus of the NITA international programming promotes the core principles of the Rule of Law embodied by an adversarial trial system of oral advocacy in courtrooms and tribunals.

In 2011, NITA and the NITA Foundation supported the learning-by-doing training of legal advocates from Scotland, Northern Ireland, the Republic of Ireland, Mexico, Kenya, Botswana, Liberia, the Republic of South Africa, Albania, Kosovo, Japan, and other nations. Through our relationships with the U.S. Department of Justice, Justice Advocates Africa PSIM, ABAROLI, USAID, Lawyers Without Borders, and other legal organizations, NITA continues to donate program design and materials for the programs. For these International Rule of Law programs NITA also supports the provision of trained NITA teaching faculty for the programs held in the United States and abroad. NITA faculty members continue to volunteer their time to teach in virtually all of these programs and some donate their own travel expenses.

Custom Programs

NITA didn’t offer any custom or in-house programs 40 years ago. A sharp contrast to 2011 when over 1600 attorneys were trained in NITA’s 133 Custom Programs. Drawing from 40 years of training experience and an elite faculty of the nation’s leading practitioners, judges and law professors, these programs are unmatched in quality and relevancy. Added to the possibilities in 2011 were business/lawyering skills programs and law school programming.

Continuing in the learning-by-doing tradition and keeping up with the expanding core competency structures at law firms, business/lawyering skills programs were added to the Custom Program offerings. These programs teach the skills necessary in client relations, legal strategy, firm management and more.

The University of Pennsylvania was so pleased with the pilot NITA program conducted in 2010 that they asked to run another one during spring break in 2011. The Deposition to Trial program put the law students through the same rigors that practicing attorneys go through at NITA programs and was once again met with rave reviews.

studio71

New in 2011 was NITA’s studio71, an online studio which houses learning opportunities never before available from NITA: Online lectures and demonstrations by NITA’s expert faculty, interviews with NITA’s prestigious authors, online accessibility to NITA’s DVD publication library. NITA’s one-of-a-kind learning-by-doing teaching method is now accessible via online performance room. Technology wouldn’t have allowed any of this 40 years ago but now it provides NITA another delivery method for programming. Perhaps most importantly, studio71 brings you the convenience (and low cost) of online content without sacrificing the educational quality NITA is known for.

After a successful pilot in July three online deposition programs were held in 2011 training four attorneys in each
NITA Publications

NITA publishes books and materials designed to help attorneys and law students become effective advocates. Our titles include rule books, case files, texts, and videos that guide lawyers through handling cases from inception through litigation and appeal. Our authors bring their considerable experience and talent from practice, the bench, and the classroom to each unique NITA title.

Our case files are used in training programs and classrooms across the country and around the globe to help advocates hone their case preparation and courtroom skills. Our rule and objection books give attorneys an edge in practice, and our text and videos enhance each advocate’s learning-by-doing experience with specific examples and demonstrations of necessary skills.

NITA Foundation

Since its inception in 2003, the NITA Foundation has disbursed nearly $2.5 million in scholarship assistance and public service program support. As NITA has grown in prestige and scope, NITA and the NITA Foundation have undertaken the responsibility of bringing legal advocacy training to as many public service lawyers as possible, especially those who cannot afford it.

Contributions to the NITA Foundation work to promote justice through various training and educational programs, both in this country and abroad, by supporting a number of public service programs as well as providing scholarships to public programs. Gifts donated to the NITA Foundation directly support NITA program services—either the scholarship program or the public service programs—without any deduction for administrative or fund raising expenses.

In 2011 NITA Foundation awarded 93 Scholarships (amounting to $147,700) for attendance in Public Programs
